

Congratulations on your upcoming wedding!

So you're engaged and you've begun putting together all the pieces to make a perfect wedding. Finding a photographer that fits can be difficult, but nothing is more rewarding than finding the perfect fit. You want the story of your wedding day captured by the eye of a photojournalist, but you want the beauty of your wedding day captured by the eye of an artist.

That is exactly what I do. I'm trained as an artist and experienced as a photojournalist. I have to say, I love what I do. The atmosphere of a good wedding can't be beat. The whole day is filled with friends, family, love and excitement. Thank you for considering me to share these moments with you!

My photography packages are simple and straightforward. You can take advantage of savings and simplicity with a package or you can build something suited to your needs from individual services. You already have plenty of details to deal with, your wedding photography should be a stress-free and enjoyable experience!

All coverage includes the editing time behind each image you receive. This is the artistic process each image goes through between the camera and you. All of your final images are edited for color and consistent exposure, while some are turned into true works of art. I will choose some select images and spend a while with each image creating something beyond typical photography. A work of art that is uniquely you. See below for samples.

All coverage includes a DVD slideshow album. This is a video set to music that can be played in any DVD player. Each is custom designed and often captures the emotion of the day better than a traditional album. Clients love to watch this over and over and send copies to relatives.

All coverage includes an online gallery of your images for one year. Pictures can be viewed, and prints can be ordered by friends and family from anywhere in the world.

All coverage includes a DVD archive of your digital negatives. The DVD's (delivered with your completed album) include written permission for you to reproduce your wedding-day photographs at any lab you choose.

I want you to be as proud of your pictures as I am. I work with a professional lab and some of the best craftspeople in the wedding industry.

Destination Weddings

I love travel photography and have always felt weddings were very similar photographically. You have to transport yourself into this unique environment filled with people who are doing something different and unique. We don't get married every day; therefore every wedding is a cultural landmark in each person's life. Documenting this story through a day filled with different locations and different light is what I love to do.

I have a generous discount for the adventurous who have a destination wedding. I offer travel to destination weddings at cost. That is, I don't charge a fee to come along. I only charge the actual cost of travel and staying at the destination. The photography fees are then discounted by 10%. That's 10% off everything just because we both love to travel!

Albums

A wedding is a story. Your wedding is your story. One of the best stories you will ever tell. When I am photographing, I am thinking of the story with each shot. What is a good story without a book? I would love for each client to have a book that tells their story and can be passed down for generations to tell the story for years to come.

Albums are built in to the Victorian and the Renaissance packages to offer a less complicated and affordable way to receive a complete wedding photography package.

There are many options available. From Traditional leather to modern covers. From large sizes to small gift sizes. All albums can be purchased separately.

I custom design each album to tell your unique story.
